KILLED BY DINKEY TRAIN.

Louisville, Dec. 22.—The bodies of Peter Dalton and Henry Wetzel, of Ramsey, Ind., a small station on the Western railway, 25 miles below New Albany were found lying beside the O. C. and St. L. suburban track at what is known as Half way house, between Howard park and Silver creek this morning at 6:30 o'clock. With the exception of a few marks on the road there was nothing to indicate what had caused death. An examination showed that the men had been killed by a train. The bodies were lying close together that they almost touched. It was learned that they met death by a dinkey train.

Large Congregations Were Out at Yesterday's Services.

Ministerial Association to Give a Banquet January 1—Yesterday's Sermons.

The musical program at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church yesterday, both morning and evening were of an unusually high order. The song and prose service at night was a success from every standpoint and the large audience present was led in its expressions of appreciation. Besides the anthems which were admirably rendered by the choir, the hymns were very much enjoyed by all. The feature of giving a brief history of the hymns and biographical sketch of the author, while somewhat of an innovation, proved a very interesting and profitable feature of the service. The success of the service was largely due to the perseverance and efficiency of Mrs. C. H. Sherrill, the leader of the choir, and her solo work in the anthems was of an unusually high order. Mrs. W. T. Miller, who has been secured as organist, presided at the organ with her usual degree of efficiency. An unusually large audience was also in attendance upon the morning service, and taken all in all, it was one of the best days in the history of the work under the present pastorate.

NEWS OF RELIGIOUS WORLD

Methodist bishops have issued an appeal to Methodists in all parts of the world to inaugurate a spiritual advance, beginning Sunday, December 28, and continuing certainly throughout the three succeeding days, ending with watch night service on the last day of the current year. This month ends the time set apart for the twentieth century undertaking. The $20,000,000 fund has been raised, and American Methodism was never financially so well anchored as at this time. But the 2,000,000 converts have not been made. Now the time of special prayers recommended by the bishops, is to be in behalf of the side of the twentieth century undertaking that has failed. The bishops recommend that these four days at the end of the old year be followed by the new year by revival services. The address of the board of bishops is concerned in by bishops of the Methodist church south and from reports going back to them that they believe the period will be generally observed in the manner recommended by them.

The Ministerial Association met this morning at the usual hour, and the committee on program was granted further time. It was decided on recommendation of the committee on banquet, to hold the banquet at the First Christian church on Thursday, January 1, from 5 to 7 p.m. A large crowd is expected and the occasion will be one of the most delightful in the history of the city. There was nothing else done except the transaction of routine business. There was an interesting Christmas service of the Broadway Methodist Epworth League held at the church last evening from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock. Special music was rendered, Misses Virginia and Leah Johnson singing "No Room in the Inn" very sweetly, and Misses Mildred and Lorette Soole, also, giving a delightful duet. Miss Kenice Robertson recited a charming little Christmas poem. The service was arranged and conducted most ably by Miss Kate White.

Rev. T. J. Newell of the Broadway Methodist church, preached a strong and thoughtful sermon yesterday on "The Human Elements in Formation of Christian Character" and "Preparation for the Invited Guest." They were replete with practical thoughts and help for week-day living. Dr. Newell is very scholarly and deeply consecrated.

Rev. G. W. Perryman of the First Baptist church, preached in Jackson, Tenn., yesterday and his pulpit was filled by Mr. G. M. McNeilly, a young

SERIOUS CHARGE

Young Man Wanted at Paris, Tenn., Arrested Here.

He is Alleged to Have Performed a Criminal Operation There.

George Rawlings, a well dressed young man of Paris, Tenn., was arrested here, last evening on a telegram from Paris, asking that he be arrested and held until officers could arrive after him. It is alleged that he gave a young woman medicine for the purpose of accomplishing criminal results, and he was found at the depot apparently waiting for a train to make his escape. He arrived yesterday afternoon and was arrested by Officers Nance and Hovions. He is a barber, whose home is in London, Ky., and he did not like being locked up, asking that he be guarded in the chief's office until the officer arrived. He admits getting medicine for the girl but denies that it was for any unlawful purpose. He says that her name is Annie Brooks and that he is not afraid to go back and stand trial. He was turned over to Sheriff Werten, who came after him and was taken back this afternoon at 2:15.

theologian of Bethel college, Russellville, Mr. McNeilly formerly lived in Paducah, and was Dr. Perryman's assistant last summer, doing a fine work. He is very earnest and spiritual and preached two excellent sermons. He has many friends here.

There was a good attendance at the various churches yesterday despite the day being a rather threatening one. With a few exceptions the pulpits were filled by the respective ministers, and the sermons were in most instances commendable of the season with special Christmas message.

There will be the usual Christmas services at St. Francis de Sales Catholic church and Grace Episcopal church on Christmas day.

MANY CALLS

JUDGE SANDERS IS BECOMING QUITE AN ARBITER, HE SAYS.

"You all would be surprised to know," declared Judge Sanders this morning to the spectators of police court, "how many people come to me to settle their family troubles. Heeds come to me to patch up difficulties with their wives, and wives come to patch up difficulties with their husbands until they almost run me crazy. They seem to think that I am here to dispel every variety of domestic infelicity, and if I were to go to practicing law, like some of the judges in second class cities, I could make a fortune by advising some of my callers to get a divorce and then being employed to bring the suit."

WANTED A RIDE.

BUT THE CONDUCTOR WAS NEXT AND COULDN'T SEE IT THAT WAY.

A young drunken tramp caused some little amusement at the Illinois Central passenger depot today at noon. He tried to catch a freight train but the conductor was too wise and grabbing his arm as he went to swing on the train, throw him back several feet. The tramp was too dazed to understand what had happened and it was not until the train had passed that he knew what struck him. He claimed to be Ernest Young, of Lexington, son of Owen Young, an oil magnate whose the tramp claimed is worth $200,000. He attempted several times to get on the fast passenger but the train was stopped and he was put off.

POLICE APPOINTMENTS

WAS TIRED OF LIFE

'Uncle' Charlie Willingham Found Hanging In His Barn.

Told a Neighbor That He Was "Troubled Nigh Unto Death" the Last Time He Was Seen.

'Uncle' Charlie Willingham, a well known colored Baptist minister and plasterer, was found dead, hanging from a stable rafter by a small hemp rope yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock by his son "Dock" Willingham, who was searching for a board with which to repair a fire place. Willingham was last seen Saturday at noon when he remarked to a neighbor that he was "troubled nigh unto death" and adding, as he proceeded to his home near the old fair grounds, that he was not long to be among them. This was the last seen of him and yesterday morning when he failed to show up his people became alarmed and his son Dock went to the city to look for him. He was unsuccessful and shortly after dinner found his father hanging in the stable, which is in the rear of the house, while he was searching for the board. Willingham's feet were just a fraction of an inch from the ground and from all appearances he had been in that position for many hours. It is thought that he had gone to the stable and hung himself directly after telling the neighbor that he was not long for this world. There was a water trough in the stable and from all indications he jumped from this after tying the rope to the rafter. Coroner William Peal held an inquest this morning and the verdict was "suicide, the result of an unbalanced brain."

Willingham was struck by an Illinois Central train last April and had been slightly demented ever since. His head was badly cut and bruised and it is thought that his mind was affected. He was born in Graves county about 70 years ago but had been living here the greater part of his life. He was well known in Paducah, having repaired fire places for numerous residents for the past 25 years. Three sons and a daughter, the latter of Chicago, survive him. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the colored Baptist church, interment at Oak Grove.

WOULDN'T GO

"Red" Marcum Declined to Return to Illinois.

Was Ordered to Jail to Await a Requisition From That State. Officer C. J. Doyle, of Chester, Ill., arrived yesterday after Red Marcum, alias John Galloway, alias Wm. Johnson, alias "Red" Johnson, who was arrested here last week suspected of being implicated in the Lola safe blowup, but could not be identified. Johnson is wanted for violating a parole granted him at Chester April 1, 1899, and for breaking jail at Carmit, Ill. When the officer reached here, he thought that Marcum, alias Johnson, would return without a requisition, but Johnson became snobbish, and would not go, and the officer left at once for Illinois to secure the requisition. Johnson was this morning taken before Judge Sanders and ordered remanded to jail for 60 days, unless ordered released by due process of law in the meantime, which means when the requisition arrives he will be turned over to the Illinois officer.

DEATH IN MARSHALL

George Cooper, aged 54, died today at his home near Palms, Marshall county, from Bright's disease, leaving a family. The burial took place at Blawett's graveyard. Judge Thomas P. Cook of Murray was in the city today.

POLICE COURT TODAY

Many Offenders Were Before Judge Sanders Today

A Number Held and Several Fines Were Assessed for Misdemeanors.

A FEW ACQUITTALS

Dee Betler, Goldey Lawrence and Van Flowers are the names of three negroes from Ballard county who most have been had off for Christmas money. They were arrested at Morgee's wagon yard yesterday afternoon late by Officers Woods and Clark on a charge of stealing a load of tobacco belonging to E. B. and J. H. Spaulding, of Ballard. It is alleged that they drove their wagon up to the Spaulding's barn, loaded six hundred pounds or more of the tobacco onto the wagon, and brought it to Paducah to sell. Their case was continued until Monday. Will Hefley, a well known electrician and showman, was arrested yesterday on a charge of being implicated in the burglary of Wallerstein's, for which Perry Bryant and Ed Lawrence were arrested one night last week. A third man escaped Lieutenant Moore and Officers Rogers and Degan, and the police did not know who he was then, but since, it is claimed, the others have "squealed" and as a result Hefley was arrested. He claims he can prove an alibi and was granted a continuance. Henry Minor and George Smith, charged with complicity in the theft of a pair of pants at Poage's, were again before the court. They claimed they had nothing to do with the theft and did not know that Will Strickland, who got the goods, stole them. They were acquitted.

Ed Whitman, white, was charged with stealing $5.85 and a razor from a trunk in Mary Jones' room in a West Court street house. She said he took the key from her, opened the trunk and stole the money and left the house. The razor was found in his possession. He was held to answer.

Charles Conley, charged with stealing $30 from J. A. Gainer, in whose wagon he was allowed to sleep, was again before the court, and was dismissed, as there was no evidence against him. Dick, alias Will Evans, alias "Gorilla Dick," was charged with obtaining money by false pretenses by selling a pistol belonging to James Poore to Ike Cohen, the pawnbroker, and was held in the sum of $300.

Mort Johnson, colored, was charged with robbing Anderson Brown, an aged negro of Smithland, Ky., of 50 cents which he was given to go home on, was granted a continuance. Sam Thacker, an employee of the Hiram Blow plant, shot twice at "Irish" Robinson on West Court Saturday night but missed his mark. The young men, it seems had a dispute, resulting in the shooting. He was held to answer in the sum of $500.

A case against W. D. Oline, for failing to obtain an auctioneer's license, was dismissed as he had the license but neglected to have the bond signed. Andy Frit was fined $50 and costs for flourishing a pistol and $5 and costs for refusing to pay back fare. He told the hackman to whistle for his money, but instead the hackman "squealed."

Charles Summers was fined $1 and costs for a difficulty with his wife, and he and his wife were recognized in the sum of $300 for their former good behavior towards each other. The case against Red Berker, for a breach of the peace on the wharf, was dismissed, as he proved to be the wrong man.

CORONER PEAL HURT

Coroner William Peal fell this morning on the pavement near his residence and was badly, but fortunately not seriously, injured. He was attacked with vertigo near Ninth and Clark and in falling struck on his face, which was badly bruised and skinned. Dr. B. B. Griffith was summoned and dressed the injury.

CAUSED DEATH.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. BIG COAL TOW COMING

The J. B. Finley Breaks the Record at Ohio River Falls..

Is Due to Pass Paducah with a Monster Tow of Many Coalboats.

OTHER COAL IS COMING

The combine's big towboat J.B. Finley is due at Paducah with the largest coal tow that ever passed over the Ohio river falls at Louisville. It went over the falls Saturday without accident and consists of 24 coalboats and four coal barges, extending in length 762 feet, including the towboat. The tow carried 25,000 tons or about 675,000 bushels.

The Finley is piloted by Dan Variable. The trip was made without unusual incident, and was manipulated similarly to the towing of other coal tows over the falls, except that the element of danger was greater.

Ordinarily, coal tows as large as the Finley's break up into several lengths and go through the canal in three or four or five sections. The trip over the falls was made in about one hour. It would have required 24 hours for this tow to have been broken into sections and been sent through the canal.

The coal is consigned from Pittsburgh to New Orleans. It will take about twenty days to make the trip. The tow was 200 feet longer than the next longest tow that ever went over the falls. It was made with the regular crew of forty men.

The J. B. Finley has a capacity of 2,600-horse power and extending the new Sprague, is the largest of the combine's boats. Each of the coalboats is 180 feet in length, 25 feet in width and 10 feet in depth drawing nine feet of water, and, when loaded, holding 1,000 tons of coal. Each barge is 135 feet long, 26 feet wide and 8 feet deep. A barge draws seven feet of water and holds, when loaded 550 tons of coal.

Another large coal shipment started south from Pittsburgh yesterday aggregating over 1,000,000 bushels and a big consignment of manufactured products accompanied it.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company sent the following tows: Alice Brown, 15 coalboats, two barges of coal and two model barges of rails; Josh Cook, 17 coalboats; Dave Wood, ten coalboats; John Moren, 10 coalboats. The Valiant will be sent out tomorrow with 17 coalboats, if there is water enough, which is considered likely.

BOLD THEFT

MR. JOSEPH L. FRIEDMAN'S RESIDENCE ENTERED.

Mr. Joseph L. Friedman of Friedman and Keller yesterday reported to the police the loss of a fine new suit of clothes, a small amount of change and his keys, in addition to his diamond cuff buttons, which were stolen by a sneak thief.

When Mr. Friedman retired Saturday night at his home on North Ninth street he left his clothing in the usual place, his suit being a new one just from the tailor. The thief entered some time during the night through the pantry window and took the suit and shirt and escaped through the front door without arousing anyone.

The clothing and cuff buttons, together with other articles taken, make the loss about $150. There is no clue.

HEAVY BONDS.

SAFE BLOWERS IN JAIL AT EDDYVILLE AT PRESENT.

Charles Russell and Frank O'Neal, the two alleged safe blowers captured here last week, were landed in jail at Eddyville Saturday by Captain Henry Bailey and Market Master Woods, and while they have not given bond, they claim that they could easily do so by communicating with friends. They were arraigned before a magistrate and waived examination, being held in the sum of $1500 each.

QUARANTINE RAISED.

It has been announced that the state board of health, which quarantined Grayson county on October 23, has raised the quarantine, and the U. C. conductors have been notified of the action.

Mr. E. E. Reid of Clinton spent Sunday in the city.

FIRST TRAIN

Illinois Central Started Operation of the Reevesville.

From Now on Goloonda Will Have Daily Trains to St. Louis Division.

Yesterday the first train was run on the Goloonda, Ill., branch of the Illinois Central and from now on that city will have railroad communication with the outside world.

The railroad branch had been under course of construction for some time and the residents of that city and of Reevesville have been looking forward to this day with much expectation. Goloonda is the county seat of Polk county, Ill., and heretofore could be reached by river only. The following is the schedule of the trains, run daily: Passenger trains will leave Reevesville at 2:05 p.m. daily, and arrive at Goloonda at 3:35 p.m., returning, leaving Goloonda at 11:40 a.m., and arriving at Reevesville at 1:10 p.m. Daily freight trains will leave Reevesville at 6 a.m., arrive at Goloonda at 7:30 a.m., returning, leaving Goloonda at 6:45 p.m., and arrive at Reevesville at 8:15 p.m. These trains will connect with main line trains to and from St. Louis and the north and south.

MAYOR'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

BEGINNING PREPARATIONS TO GET IT UP FOR NEXT MONTH.

The heads of all the city departments have been asked by Mayor Yeiser for general reports of their work, and the needs of their respective departments. The mayor wants the information for his annual message, which he will present to the general council some time next month.

The time for offering the proclamation has not been fixed, and may not be until the latter part.

It is understood that Mayor Yeiser, who suggested a bond issue several days ago to cover the floating indebtedness of the city, has decided that one would not be advisable, and that the city had better continue borrowing until there are funds enough.

DEATH AT GRACEY

A WELL KNOWN MERCHANT THERE DIES FROM TYPHOID.

Mr. Will O. Gray yesterday received news of the death of his cousin, Mr. T. J. Wall of Gracey, Ky., senior member of the grocery firm of Wall Bros., from typhoid fever. The deceased was 35 years old and a prominent merchant. He and his wife have several times visited Paducah, and he leaves, besides a widow, one child. Mrs. Will Gray of the city was called to Gracey by the illness of the deceased several days ago. The funeral took place yesterday.

THE TURKEY CROP

THEY ARE NOT AS HIGH HERE AS ELSEWHERE AT PRESENT.

There will probably be no turkey famine in Paducah this week, as from reports there are plenty of them in cold storage awaiting the Christmas rush. Today on market turkeys were selling at from 9 to 12 cents a pound undressed, or from 12 to 16 cents dressed. In many other cities they are selling as high as 17 and 19 cents a pound.

Syrian Coins to Brazil. James W. O'Bannon, chief yeoman of the United States steamship Atlanta, recently found an old Syrian coin in Pernambuco, Brazil. It is of silver, about the size of an English shilling, with a raised king's head on one side, and on the other the figure of a woman sitting spinning with a distaff in her right hand. Upon her left and by the side of her chair is a horn of plenty.

The inscription each side of the woman is in old Greek text, and translated is "Demetrius Soter, King." "In place of a date," writes Mr. O'Bannon, "are marks which cannot be perfectly translated by any Greek scholar I have consulted, but most all agree that these marks indicate the eighth year of the king's reign. If this be the case the coin is somewhat older than the Christian era, for King Demetrius ruled Syria before Christ was born."

NEW AGENT AT DAWSON.

Mr. Strother Smith of Kuttawa, who has been clerk in the hotel, has been appointed agent for the Illinois Central at Dawson and takes charge at once.

RE-RATING IS OVER

Both Buildings and Residences Have Been Completed.

It Will Be Twenty Days Before the New Schedule Is Received.

WORK LASTED SEVERAL WEEKS

Mr. J. Barbour Gray, of Louisville, who began re-rating the buildings of the city for the Kentucky and Tennessee Board of Underwriters, September 7, finished today, and left for Nashville, where he will spend the holidays with his wife, who left yesterday.

Mr. Gray, with the exception of three weeks he spent on his bridal trip has worked steadily, and found the undertaking much greater than expected. He thought he could finish by November 26, but Paducah has grown extensively, and it required longer.

Stamp Deputy C. O. Rose has completed his work of re-rating the dwellings, and together the two gentlemen have rated every structure in Paducah. Mr. Gray's report comprises several hundred pages of manuscript, and it will be twenty days and perhaps longer, before it is printed and the new tariff becomes effective.

Mr. Gray goes to Hopkinsville and Clarksville respectively after the holidays to rate the tobacco risks. While in the city he has made a host of friends, who regret his departure.

PERSISTENCE REWARDED.

Andrew Carnegie's return makes timely this story of a reporter who was assigned to see Mr. Carnegie on an important public question. Repeatedly refused admittance to the house, he finally sought out a senator who was a personal friend of Mr. Carnegie to help him out. In the course of conversation the senator handed him his card. Immediately the reporter was struck with a bright idea, and wishing his genial acquaintance goodbye, repaired once more to the Carnegie mansion and presented both his own card and that of the senator. The great doors swung open, and a gracious reception was accorded the newspaper man by the master of the house.

"Young man," said Mr. Carnegie, "do you know that sixteen reporters have called to see me today about this very question, and that I have refused to see any one of them?"

"I surely ought to know that, Mr. Carnegie, for I was the whole sixteen," responded the scribe.

Mr. Carnegie was so pleased with the young man's persistence that he violated his rule and gave his views at length on the subject regarding which he had previously refused to talk with anybody.—New York Times.

THE SUN'S PUZZLE PICTURE.

I wonder where that boy has gone with my two dogs." Can you find him?

AN ACTOR'S COME-BACK.

In the Chicago American, to which he is a regular contributor upon current topics, the Rev. H. Keene, Ryan, formerly of Kentucky, recently made a vigorous attack on Virginia Barnard in advance of her appearance in "Iris" in Chicago. Mr. Ryan took occasion to denounce the so-called "problem plays" and to condemn the actresses who consent to enact the roles of bad women. This attack has aroused E. H. Sothern, Miss Thorne's husband, who has sent a sharp letter to the Chicago publisher.

"I have read your article on the play of 'Iris'," writes Mr. Sothern, "and it is incredible that a minister of the gospel, a professed follower of Jesus Christ, should write as you do."

"You say: 'Were it not for the power of the managers, no good woman would elect to play 'Mrs. Tanqueray,' 'Iris,' and so forth.' Mrs. Flake, Mrs. Kendal, Mrs. Campbell, my wife, Mrs. Bernhardt, Mrs. Duse, are not dolls. They have minds, equal perhaps, to your own, and they select their roles. They are not 'commanded' to do anything. My wife chooses to play this part. She thinks it worthy of her art, and so do I, and so does Mr. Pinero, quite a clever man, believe me, and possibly a Christian, too, but not of the kind you would understand."

"The stage should be as free from vice as the church," you cry from the top of your steeple. It is. A thousand times, it is! You don't know what you are talking about. All that is noble and fine, charitable and unselfish, modest and unassuming, and sweet gentle in our lives, you know nothing about, and all the good seed our plays plant in the hearts of those who come to us is hidden from you.

"The refrain of all plays is: The wages of sin is death." In virtue alone is happiness. Plays which have not this refrain cannot succeed. The heart of the audience reflects them. And these very plays of 'Mrs. Tanqueray' and 'Iris' burn these lessons into one's soul.

"It is one of the duties of your high calling to point out that a weak nature, uncontrolled, is as fatal and dangerous to itself and to the community as a criminal one. 'Iris' preaches this lesson, and preaches it more eloquently than, perhaps, you can preach it from your pulpit. Ah! there's the rub. Pinero trends upon your toes. His 'Mrs. Tanqueray' and his 'Iris' are sermons that do not send you to sleep, but set you thinking—youth and old—thinking—the young determined to avoid such a fate; the old with a new resolve to protect those whom they love and to guide them in the way they should go.

"There is some talk just now of a church and stage alliance, or something of that sort. I wonder, what we actors and playwrights have to learn from such men as you, dear—faith, hope and charity?"

ONLY ONE CENT.

YOUNG MAN GETS A SMALL VERDICT AGAINST THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL.

H. B. Stevenson, a well known young man of Mayfield, obtained a verdict for one cent and costs against the Illinois Central at Mayfield Saturday in his suit against the road for $1000. Some time ago he was aboard the Illinois Central accommodation when it is alleged his conduct became annoying to other passengers, and finally conductor W. Y. Hansbro put him off at Boaz Station. He promised to behave and was then permitted to get back aboard, but he sued the road soon after for $1000 damages for the humiliation.

INDICTMENT QUASHED.

JAILER THREEKELD MAKES SHORT WORK OF IT AT SMITHLAND.

The grand jury at Smithland a few days ago returned an indictment against Jailer Threkkeld for allowing a prisoner named Scruggs to escape. The man was about to die in jail, and in order to save his life he was made a trusty. He heard that other warrants were to be issued against him and made his escape, and the jailer was then indicted.

A few days ago attorneys for the jailer filed a demurrer to the indictment, and it was promptly thrown out of court by the judge, and the jailer's friends are warmly congratulating him for the promptness with which he demanded an investigation of the case.

A MERRY CHASE

LOUIS BUFORD, COLORED, ELUDED THE POLICE YESTERDAY.

Louis Buford, colored, who escaped from the county jail several days ago by cutting his way through the base of the cell, was in the city yesterday and the police led him a merry chase. He is a desperate negro and once took several shots at Lockup Keeper Robert Menifee. The officers were unable to catch him last night, although all were on the alert and tracking him close. The most diligent search resulted in a failure to effect his capture. He was in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on a charge of robbery. He was indicted this term for that offense but the indictment was returned before his escape.

THE SHORTEST DAY

WAS YESTERDAY—NIGHTS WILL NOW GROW SHORTER.

These are the shortest days of the year, and the nights are the longest. Saturday, yesterday and today had only about nine hours and twenty-seven minutes of daylight, according to the almanac, and it will be some little time before the days begin to appreciably lengthen. Saturday night, according to the calendar, was the longest of the year, and yesterday the shortest day.

Pleasant for Automobileists. In England and France experiments are being made in covering the roads with a thin layer of tar to allay the dust and kill disease germs. It is said the tar sinks into the earth and seems to absorb the dust created by horses' hoofs and wagons. The oiling of the roadbeds for the same purpose has been practiced by railroads in this country for some time, and experiments in its use on highways have been quite extensive.

FLOWERS OF FISH SCALES.

Novel Art Turned to Good Account by an Adroit New York Woman.

There is a woman in New York who keeps a shop not far from the Waldorf-Astoria where she pursues the novel industry of making fish scale flowers and leaves. The dealers of the oceans in the tropics are notable for the color and brilliancy of their scales and fins, the range of chromatic tints including pink, rose, scarlet, sky blue, ultramarine, apple green, amethyst, olive gold, orange, gray, lilac and purple. The scales are easily fastened together or to wires with a strong fish glue, which is singularly durable. The industry passed to the West Indies, where it was adopted by the Spaniards, and during the Cuban war came over to the mainland and found a home in Florida.

The finished flower possesses a fantastic beauty which is unique. The shape and color of the vegetable world are present, but there is a certain transparency to all the tissues, a firmness to the lines and resilience to the leaves and blossoms which are never found in the floral kingdom. The New York woman is making quite a success of her trade.

"MR. DOOLEY" TALKS OF WIVES Romantic Sentiment Always Present in Their Minds, He Says.

Women writes at the good romantic novels, and reads them all. If any proud lady in the gum business thinks he ripresents the ideal of his wife's soul he ought to take a look at the book she reads. He'll learn there the reason he's where he is because he was the first choice. "I would humble the haughtiest prince by trade to look into the heart of the woman he cares most for and think late about, and find that, instead of the photograph of a shrewd, but kindly man with a trifle of absence of hair on his head and a burglar-proof safe on his watch-chain, there's a pitcher of a young lady in green tights playing a mandolin to a high front stoop. On the stoop, with a rose in her hand, is his lawful-wedded wife, the lady Anne-Marie Higgins of Peotoma. Ye can't keep her away from a romantic novel. No matter what Edward Atkinson tells ye, she prefers the Ag in Chivalry to the moor' attractive housewarruk—Mr. Dooley.

Art and Athletics.

The universally increasing attention now being given, especially in Anglo-Saxon countries, to out-of-door sports and to physical culture is a sign of the best omen. No class can have a greater solace for the furtherance of this movement than the artists, for they cannot create beautiful forms without having beautiful forms around them from which to draw inspiration," says a writer in Outing. The art of a nation is a mirror of that nation's ideas, and faithfully reflects their slightest change. The new conception of the value of athletics will add dignity, interest and standing, making it a factor second to none in the development of our civilization. It will be a mighty influence in the creation of a new and superior type of men and women. That women are growing more and more to realize this is evidenced by the athletic tendency of the modern girl. If she will combine therewith an intelligent effort after well-balanced and harmonious development, the results are bound to be satisfying in the extreme.

"Home Week" in New England.

Ex-Gov. Rutland, of New Hampshire, president of the Old Home Week association of that state, has issued his call to the absent sons and daughters of the granite state to come home and help celebrate for a week in August. This institution, which was started by Gov. Hollis, is now in its fourth year and shows no signs of falling into disfavor. Since it was started Vermont, Maine and Massachusetts have taken no idea.

Saved

From Death After Four Years

Of Nervous Prostration and Debility.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me Permanently.

Nervous prostration is the most serious of nervous disorders. It arises from some extra strain, which robs the nerves of strength, vitality and life. The patient speedily loses self control, is subject to frightful headaches, faint spells, melancholia and morbid tendencies. Too weak to drag the limbs, wasted body around; unable to get sleep or rest, life seems scarcely worth the living; the mind frequently broods until it becomes unbalanced and insanity often results. Read what Dr. Miles' Nervine did for Mrs. Grabbitt. "I was terribly afflicted with nervous trouble for nearly four years. I was so bad at times that I could not help myself, nor carry a chair across the room without giving out. One physician attended me for a year and a half without giving me any help whatever and I also doctored with two others without any good results. My father and others wished me to try Dr. Miles' Nervine which, after lots of coaxing I did. I took six bottles of the Nervine and some of the Nerve and Liver Pills. I was completely cured of my trouble and I heartily recommend it to any woman who is suffering from a nervous disorder. I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for headache and neuralgia with best results. I believe firmly in the efficacy of the Nerve and Liver Pills and am fully convinced that Dr. Miles' Nervine saved my life."—MRS. HATTIE GRABBIT, Roanoke, Va.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and colder tonight. Fair Tuesday.

MAYFIELD'S TOWN COW.

Mayfield is having a town cow agitation, such as Paducah passed through a few months ago, and the papers publish divers letters from the people taking one side or the other.
Here is a sample. One lady says:

"I see several letters in your paper against the town cow. I am for her she is my friend and my support. I would not give her for all the flowers in town. I have both cow and flowers.
If the 'highfintin' people who are fighting the cow will take up some of their precious time in fixing their gates and fences they will do more good than to banish our cows from the city."

Another who is evidently an enemy
of the cow said in the same paper:

"The hog has been relegated, while the cow is let run at large and she is the greater nuisance of the two. This time of year the cow should not be allowed on the streets, there is no grazing at all and the only thing she does is a rose bush in a neighbor's yard, no man has a right to keep stock at the expense and annoyance of his neighbor. A few days since the writer saw six cows at one time in a yard on College street. One or all of these cows are gate openers and in some yard every day. Our city dads forced a number of our citizens to make pavements in front of their dwellings, now they should force the cows to be kept up, so those pavements will not be worse to walk on than the mud was, as we all know the town cow is no respecter of pavements."

Thus the war goes merrily on with no prospect of an early settlement.
In Paducah the question was settled several weeks ago, and if the people of Mayfield vote out the cow, they can move to Paducah, bring their cows and other livestock and turn them out to their heart's content.

We all have our troubles, and some one has evidently offended the editor of our Metropolis contemporary, the Herald. His remarks on the subject are very true, and apply everywhere.
If the public could only appreciate them, it would doubtless be less severe in its criticisms of newspapers.
He says:

"The Herald frequently like all other papers is called upon by persons who do not consider that we have handled some news item as it should have been handled. Sometimes we have said too much, sometimes we shouldn't have said anything and sometimes we haven't said near enough. All of these matters are a portion of the unpleasant features of journalism. If an editor could print what he considers an up-to-date newspaper as the general custom of the country dictates and could at the same time keep every one who read his paper in a good humor he would certainly have a pleasant occupation. But frequently news—and that is a very comprehensive word—affects his friends as well as his foes. If he refrains from printing everything that he thinks would in the least offend any man, woman or child his paper is soon pronounced tame and shallow.

The editor is termed a coward or indolent and there you are. The great body of men in our country who daily hunt the elusive news item are perhaps subjected to more insults and rebuffs than any other class of men, except sometimes when some one is looking for a favor. But such is the newspaper man's lot and such perhaps it will remain indefinitely—in Metropolitan and everywhere else."

The grand jury and fiscal court both took a crack of two city because of the perennial condition of Yeiser park, which is the 'conrt house yard. It is regretted that this step became necessary, for it does not speak well for the city's pride in her public buildings and yards, and is regretted still more that it will probably do no good, and Yeiser park will be allowed to remain,
or at most soon relapse into its present dilapidated condition. It has not only looked like a pasture, but has been one, where county officials frequently turn their horses to graze. The gates have been closed to keep these horses in, or to keep the cows out, it makes no difference which, as one is as bad as the other, and the public has been compelled to stand at a distance and helplessly look on. The city will do nothing with the park, and the county having given the city charge of it several years ago for a long term of years, can do nothing towards beautifying it. The park should be placed in good condition, something this paper has advocated from time to time for several years, and in summer should be protected from political speakings, ice cream snappers and other things that result in the grass being tramped down and ruined.

If it be true that the saloon-closing ordinance contains a defect that invalidates it, aside from any question of the propriety or constitutionality of the law, the most inexcusable negligence on part of some of the city officials is conclusively shown. They have dilly-dallied along with the ordinance for several weeks, and then to have overlooked a glaring error, is something for which there is absolutely no justification. In addition, if the ordinance is re-passed, it may have to be by the present boards, or not at all, and to do this will require four called sessions, two of each board, at a cost of $120 to the taxpayers, besides the cost of printing it again. If the ordinance is held up until the new board goes in, it may not be passed at all.
Thus the people can see what competent, thoughtful men they have put into office.

Many ludicrous mistakes are made in the daily papers, especially some of the country weeklies, but one of the most amusing is reported by the Central Record: It thus apologizes: 'Each week the Record gives place to whatever announcements the local W. O. T.
U. may see proper to send in. Last issue, the festive compositor got in his work and made an inexcusable but very amusing error. The copy stated that a certain lady would read a paper on 'Our Red Letter Days.' The printer thought differently, however, and it ran in the paper 'Our Red Letter Days.' The entire Record force has since lived in fear and trembling, and every fellow is wearing a coat of mail."

A bill has just been introduced into the Virginia legislature to prohibit the kissing of the Bible by witnesses
when taken an oath to tell the truth.
Mr. McIlwaine, the courtly gentleman who introduced it, says his idea is to prevent the dissemination of disease by the microbe method, but it is probably only a subterfuge to escape an obsolete custom which was long ago abolished in Kentucky and many other places.

REMAINS RE-INTERRED.

The remains of Mr. Henry Hane, who died a few months ago in Davison, and of his infant child, who died in 1893, were removed yesterday from Mt. Carmel to Oak Grove cemetery.

INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT

TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND PATRONS.

Fully realizing the fact that our city is rapidly growing and our population constantly increasing, it becomes necessary to introduce new methods to meet the demands that must necessarily be made upon us to meet this changed condition.

Beginning at the bottom about twenty years ago, we have seen our city grow and our business increase to such an extent that it is no longer possible to cater to the wants of our many patrons living in different parts of the city without increasing our facilities.
We have not found it necessary to create a trust or combine of any kind,
but simply to purchase several stores
located in different parts of the city, stock them with high grade and up-to-date groceries that can be purchased for cash at a saving of at least 25 per cent.

You can readily understand that it would be utterly impossible for us to make this concession to the consumer if we were not enabled to purchase our goods in large quantities direct from the manufacturer for cash, thereby giving the purchaser the benefit of the middleman's profit.

Our delivery system will be thorough, and we guarantee prompt delivery in every instance. All of our stores will be opened to the public between the 1st and 15th day of January, 1903, under the new system, and a cordial invitation will be extended to the public to call and afford us the opportunity to demonstrate the truth of every statement made in this announcement.

We can scarcely express our gratitude to the people of Paducah for the liberal patronage extended us for the past twenty years, and shall see our utmost endeavor by fair dealing and strict compliance with every promise to merit a continuance in the future.

We would respectfully ask our patrons and the public generally to give our cash system a fair trial, feeling certain that a saving of at least 25 per cent will be the result.

Wishing all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, we remain,
Yours truly,

No warrants were issued Sunday for the saloons keeping open longer than the prescribed hours Saturday night, the new ordinance then being effective, but Chief Collins says that he will enforce it tonight, and warrants will be issued against all that do not close at 10:30. As the title of the ordinance specifies 11:30 o'clock as the closing hour, through an error, and the body of the ordinance specifies 10:30, the ordinance is invalid, according to the claim of attorneys, but the courts will have to decide it so before officers can cease enforcing it.

AFTER INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Louisville, Dec. 22—It is probable that an investigation of the insurance commissioner, John Ohenant, will be made regarding the rate cutting by insurance companies as revealed by the Wayne inquest. The local manager of one of the large companies said today: "Yes we have been cutting rates contrary to law but no one can prove it on us."

Insurance men are wrought up over the testimony given at the inquest by Clem W. Higgins and W. J. Carter who admitted that cheap insurance and "flyers" are sold freely in Louisville. No one was found to deny these statements, but Mr. Henry J. Powell, of the Equitable, says that Mr. Higgins did not sell Mr. Wayne his first Equitable policy.

In everybody's foot there is one weak spot—The toes are strong, the ball of the foot is firm, the heel is unyielding, but the ARCH of the foot under the instep is a weak place. Being arched it is wholly unsupported—being weak it is the one place that gets tired, but all the same its the muscle by which you walk, its the one part of the foot that needs to be helped.

Theatrical Notes.

Marguerite Ryiva, formerly in "Princess Ohio" and "Miss Boh White," but now in "The Strollers," is to be in Paducah in February with her big comic opera company. She is playing in Louisville this week.

The DeOnzo Bros.' Famous European Stars, which are billed to appear at The Kentucky on Wednesday night for one performance, is supposed to be the grandest and most expensive vaudeville show on the road. It is headed by the mavelous DeOnzo Bros., known the world over as the "Kings of Vaudeville." Besides this remarkable act the company includes ten other high class novelty star acts. Seats on sale to-morrow.

Mr. Roy Potter's many friends in Paducah will be pleased to learn that he has become a full-fledged actor, and is now playing small parts in the Lillian Mortimer company, which was at The Kentucky two weeks ago. Mr. Potter, who was assistant treasurer at The Kentucky, went with the company as an advance man, but having histrionic talent and some previous experience, he was given minor roles in several of the plays, one of which is "Mistress Nell," with prospects of being advanced.

The Quinlan and Wall Imperial minstrels will be at The Kentucky Christmas day. No expense has been spared to make their performance the very best, and judging from the words of praise by press and public they have the goods to deliver.

The performance runs two hours and thirty minutes. The glories of this space of time cannot be effaced by time itself. It begins with the historic and wealth emblazoned first part,—"A Reception to the Diplomatic Legion," and concludes with the laugh-creating Carrollette, "Fun and Frolic at the Station." Everything is lively, catchy, modern, novel, original from rise to drop of curtain.

One of the most charming performances of the Season will be "Old Innocence," as presented by Tim Murphy at The Kentucky tonight. Mr. Murphy has for many years been recognized as one of the best comedians of the American stage. This statement is not intended to detract from Goodwin, Robson, Crane and one or two other great comedians of our day, but Tim Murphy is a unique quantity in roles of a sympathetic nature; or, to explain more definitely, he is the grand master of the pathos of comedy. The strange art which makes us laugh with one eye and weep with the other. Sol Smith Russell had the same gift. Seats go on sale Monday morning.

BALLARD'S

HOREHOUND SYRUP
Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry O. Stearns, druggist, Shullsburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1 at DnBois and Co.'s.

Prelate Proud of His Dog.
Bishop Doane of Albany, N. Y., is very proud of his dog Cluny, a massive St. Bernard now 10 years old. Not only has the prelate written a poem dedicated to the faithful creature, but he is never content when out of doors unless accompanied by Cluny. The bishop declares that he is the best behaved member of his race in the world. "He discredited himself once or twice in early life," says the reverend gentleman, "by indulging in a curious dislike of some individual dogs. Now, however, he is peaceable, very loquacious to most people, very discriminating as to his friends, giving an almost undivided affection to me, and to my two granddaughters, who have been his true lovers through all his life."

Good Country for Sauerkraut.
In Cuba cabbage frequently weighs as much as twenty pounds. All vegetables do well. Radishes may be eaten from fourteen to eighteen days after sowing, lettuce in five weeks after sowing, while corn produces three crops per year. Sweet potatoes are perpetual. The natives dig up the tubers, cut them off and plant the old vines, which produce a new crop in three months. All sorts of fruits, horticultural and greenhouse plants and bulbous stock are also grown.

Toothpicks Tabooed.

Whether or not the final course at a meal shall be toothpicks is a mooted question. Many say no, and have good reasons for their decision. A handsome woman and her young daughter entered a swell place one day and ordered an elegant luncheon. They were testefully gowned and money-seemed plentiful with them, and the waiter in attendance was unremitting in his attention. Finally he placed a small stand of toothpicks on the table. "Remove those instantly," said the elder woman, "it is a vulgarity I cannot tolerate. I would just as soon clean my teeth at a table as use a toothpick publicly."

"What a crank that woman was," enquired a pretty girl at a table close by, "maybe she was something like the honest country youth who when offered a finger bowl and napkin, replied, 'Thank you, but I done washed hefo' I cum.'"

Honor Harrison's Memory

The decision of President Roosevelt to direct the secretary of war to have the new infantry military post at Indianapolis named "Fort Benjamin Harrison" meets with popular approval, not only in Indiana, but throughout the United States. It is understood in Washington that Gen. Miles originated the idea some time ago, it then being his desire to name the Indianapolis arsenal in honor of the late president. When it was decided to abandon the arsenal, the question of establishing a military post near Indianapolis and naming it "Fort Benjamin Harrison" was called to the president's attention and he approved of it immediately.

HE FOUND A CURE.

R. H. Foster, 318 South Second street, Salt Lake City, writes: "I have been bothered with dyspepsia or indigestion for 21 years, have tried many doctors without relief, but I have found a cure in Herbine. I recommend it to all my friends who are afflicted that way, and it is curing them too." 50c at DnBois and Co.'s.

Uncle Hazekiah on Golf.

"I don't see why they call golf a royal and ancient game," remarked the Cohoe philosopher, drenching a protruberant nail on the postoffice veranda with a well-aimed expectoration. "I never heard tell of it till two months ago, and my folks has lived right in this here county for sixty years. An' as for it bein' royal—it ain't played in no court like tennis—I don't see where that comes in. An' if it is, it's agin the constitution and the flag."—Judge.

CASE By... Emile Gaboriau

"Clameran then arranged that 300,000 francs should be kept in the bank over night ready for him to draw in the morning. That night Raoul, having been coached for the part by Clameran, went to Mme. Fauvel, told her that he was ruined and must have a large sum of money at once, threatening that if he did not get it he would blow out his brains. He told her that she must give him the key to the safe, which he would open, take what he needed and restore it on the morrow. Mme. Fauvel, in terror lest he should commit suicide and thinking that he did not know the word which, with the key, was necessary to open the safe, in order to gain time, gave him the key. Raoul went down the stairway, Mme. Fauvel following him in agony. Raoul opened the safe and took the money intended to be paid Clameran in the morning. Mme. Fauvel, astonished that he had succeeded, begged him to shut the safe, clinging to his arm and endeavoring to pull him away. The key was dragged from the lock and, slipping along the glossy varnish, made a long, deep scratch.

"The next day, after the robbery was discovered and Clameran had been paid the amount due him, he went to Mme. Fauvel and to Madeleine and told them that Raoul had secured the word necessary to open the safe from Prosper, who was to share in the plunder. Clameran, affecting to make a noble sacrifice for the two women, offered to restore the stolen money through them to M. Fauvel, but Madeleine, suspecting some hidden motive, declined the offer. "Madeleine, believing that she and Mme. Fauvel would eventually get rid of the extortionist and vindicate Prosper, asked her uncle for 10,000 francs, to be used for a charitable purpose, and sent the amount to Prosper, with a letter made up of words cut out of a prayer book.

"Mme. Fauvel and Madeleine, owing to the extortion to which they had been subjected, became urgently pressed by tradesmen and others to whom they owed money and had nothing on which to keep up their position in society. They remained secluded for a time, but were at last obliged to appear in public at the Jandildier ball. Madeleine went to Vesuet to ask Raoul to return some of the money and jewels they had given him. On this occasion she was followed by M. Verduret and Prosper. Madeleine's effort was fruitless, though she finally forced Raoul by threats of exposure to surrender some of the pawn tickets.

"At last Clameran and Raoul found in the clown at the Jandildier ball an enemy who possessed the secret of their villainies and tried to murder him."

CHAPTER XIII.

SUCH are the facts that, with an almost incredible talent for investigation, had been collected and prepared by the fat man with the jovial face who had taken Prosper under his protection, M. Verduret.

Reaching Paris at 9 o'clock in the evening, not by the Lyons route, as he had said, but by the Orleans train, M. Verduret hurried to the Archangel, where he found Prosper impatiently expecting him.

"You are about to hear some rich developments," he said to Prosper, "and see how far back into the past one has to seek for the primary cause of a crime. All things are linked together in this world of ours. If Gaston de Clameran had not taken a cup of coffee in a little cafe at Tarascon twenty years ago, your money safe would not have been robbed three weeks ago.

"Valentine de la Verberie is punished in 1893 for the murder committed for love of her in 1840. Nothing is neglected or forgotten. Listen."

And he related all that he had discovered, referring to a voluminous manuscript which he had prepared, with many notes and authenticated proofs attached. "I wonder how you discovered all these infamies," said Prosper when he had finished. "The fat man smiled. "When I undertake a task," he said, "I devote my whole attention to it. Now, make a note of this: When a man of ordinary intelligence concentrates his thoughts and energies upon the attainment of an object, he is certain to attain that object. Besides that, I have my own method of working up a case. To be sure, one needs some light to guide one in a dark affair like this, but the fire in Clameran's eye when I pronounced the name of Gaston ignited my lantern. From that moment I walked straight to the solution of the mystery as to a beacon light."

Prosper's look showed that he would like to know the secret of his protector's penetration and at the same time he was thoroughly convinced that what he heard was all true—that his innocence would be more clearly proved.

"Now, confess," cried M. Verduret, "you would give anything in the world to find out how I arrived at the truth?" "I admit it, for it is marvelous."

"Well," he replied, "I will explain my system. There is nothing marvelous about it. We worked together to find the solution of the problem. You know my reasons for suspecting Clameran had a hand in the robbery. As soon as I had acquired this certainty my task was easy. What did I do? I placed trustworthy people to watch the parties in whom I was most interested. Fanferlot as Joseph Dubola took charge of Clameran, and Nina Gipy never lost sight of Mme. Fauvel and her niece.

"I understand it all now," said Prosper.

"And what have you been doing during my absence, my young friend?" asked M. Verduret after a pause.

At this question Prosper blushed. "Alas," he stammered, "I read in a newspaper that Clameran was about to marry Madeleine, and I acted like a fool!"

"What did you do?" inquired Verduret uneasily.

"I wrote an anonymous letter to M. Fauvel informing him that his wife was in love with Raoul!"

M. Verduret brought his elucubrated frown upon the table.

"Stupid!" he exclaimed. "You have ruined everything!"

He arose from his seat and strode up and down the room, oblivious of the lodgers below, whose window awoke with every angry stamp of his foot.

Prosper remained silent as long as he could and then uneasily said:

"I am afraid I have embarrassed you very much, monsieur."

"Yes, you have dreadfully embarrassed me. What am I to do? Shall I hasten matters or wait? And I am bound by a sacred promise. We had better go and advise with the judge of instruction. He can assist me. Come with me."

As M. Verduret had anticipated, Prosper's letter had a terrible effect. When M. Fauvel opened his mail the morning after it was posted, the fatal misadventure fell into his hands.

Something about the writing struck him as peculiar. It was evidently a disguised hand, and, although, owing to the fact of his being a millionaire, he was in the habit of receiving anonymous communications, this particular letter filled him with an indefinite presentiment of evil.

With trembling hand and absolute certainty that he was about to learn some new calamity, he broke the seal and opening the coarse envelope, was shocked by the following words:

Dear Sir—You consigned your cashier to prison. You did well, since you were convinced of his dishonesty and faithlessness. But even if he stole 250,000 francs from your safe, does it follow that he also stole Mrs. Fauvel's diamonds?

This was a stroke of lightning to a man whose life hitherto had been an unbroken chain of prosperity, who could recall the past without one bitter regret, without remembering any sorrow deep enough to bring forth a tear. What! His wife deceive him! And, among all men, to choose one vile enough to rob her of her jewels and force her to be his accomplice in the ruin of an innocent young man! For did not the anonymous letter assert this to be the fact and tell him how to convince himself of its truth?

M. Fauvel determined to show the letter to his wife.

"But suppose it be true?" he muttered to himself. "Suppose I have been miserably duped! By confiding in my wife I shall put her on her guard and lose all chance of discovering the truth."

There was one simple means of verification. The letter said the diamonds had been pawned.

If it lied in this instance, he would treat it with the scorn it deserved. If, on the other hand, it should prove to be true—

Breakfast was announced. At table M. Fauvel talked incessantly, so as to escape any questions from his wife, who, he saw, was uneasy at the sight of his pale face. But all the time he was thinking he was casting over his mind expedients for getting his wife out of the house long enough for him to search her bureau without her perceiving him. At last he asked Mme. Fauvel if she were going out before dinner.

"Yes," said she. "The weather is dreadful, but Madeleine and I must do some shopping."

"At what hour shall you go?"

"Immediately after breakfast."

He drew a long breath, as if relieved of a great weight. In a short time he would know the truth.

After awhile he heard the carriage roll away with his wife and niece. Hurrying into Mme. Fauvel's room, he opened the drawer of the chiffonier where she kept her jewels. The boxes containing superb sets of jewelry which he had presented to her were gone! The anonymous letter had told the truth!

Perhaps Valentine had put her diamonds in Madeleine's room.

Without stopping to consider the inefficiency of what he was about to do he hurried into the young girl's room and pulled open one drawer after another. He did not find Mme. Fauvel's diamonds, but Madeleine's seven or eight boxes, also empty.

WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN OF EDDYVILLE KILLED SAT-

News reached the city yesterday of the tragic death of Mr. John T. Opie, a well known and highly respected young man of Eddyville, at Danville, Ill., Saturday. He was a stone contractor and was engaged in building a bridge at Danville, and the work was finished Saturday and the timbers were being removed when one fell on Mr. Opie and broke his neck. He died in about ten minutes without ever speaking. He was a native of Eddyville, and leaves a wife and child there. The remains will be buried at Eddyville.

HABEAS CORPUS CASE.

Mrs. Ida Jones, housekeeper at the Palmer house, and Attorney Dave Cross left today on the packet for Smithland to prosecute the habeas corpus case Mrs. Jones has brought against a family in Smithland to secure possession of her 6 year old daughter, whom they took to raise. The case was set for a week or two ago and deferred, and Hon. John K. Hendrick will probably act as special judge.

TO SETTLE THE QUESTION.

ATTORNEYS GRAVES AND GILBERT TO SUBMIT TO JUDGE HUSBANDS.

The question of whether or not Judge Sanders has jurisdiction in petty larceny cases is to be submitted to Circuit Judge Husbands by agreement some day this week. Judge Sanders, following the example of judges in other second class cities, has begun sentencing prisoners to work on the street for petty larceny, where under the other charter they were held over to circuit court and tried either by the county judge or in circuit court.

County Attorney Graves does not think that Judge Sanders has jurisdiction, while Prosecuting Attorney Gilbert thinks that he has, and they will allow Judge Husbands to settle the question.
